Southern Accounts of the Great Battle.

A communication from Lynchburg, Virginia, dated two days after the battle of Bull Run, to the Baltimore Sun, gives the following account of the fight:

Intelligent gentlemen from the field of battle near Manassas Junction, bring some important particulars of the great battle on Sunday last between the Federal and Confederate forces.

Gen. Beauregard was reinforced by Gen. Johnston's command from Winchester, between 11 and 12 o'clock on Sunday, after the battle commenced. The Confederate loss in killed and wounded is said to be 2,000. The number of prisoners taken by the Confederates is set down at 2,142, including one member of Congress, Mr. Ely, of New York. There were 42 pieces of cannon captured, 15,000 small arms, and over one thousand wagons.

The South Carolina troops were foremost in the action, and suffered the greatest loss. Col. Wade Hampton's legion of cavalry was nearly cut to pieces, and Col. Hampton was killed while charging the Federal troops. Col. Hampton was one of the most eminent and wealthy citizen planters of South Carolina. The legion which he commanded was recently organized, and was one of the finest bodies of men ever enrolled in the South.

The Maryland troops, with the Washington Light Artillery of New Orleans were stationed at a certain point, and were not brought directly into action. It is not known positively that any volunteers from Maryland were killed—but not over two or three certainly.

Gen. Beauregard charges that the Federal commander, after sending a flag of truce to bury his dead after the first battle at Bull Run, left his dead unburied, and occupied his time in throwing up entrenchments from which to renew the assault upon the batteries at Bull Run. For this reason he refused the application since made by Gen. McDowell, under a flag of truce, to bury the dead. The Federal dead were collected and buried in trenches by the Confederate troops, and the Federal wounded were receiving the same attention as their own.

The Confederates at no time had over 12,000 troops in action, but had a reserved force of 63,000 men, from which the regiments in action were occasionally relieved.

Among the prisoners taken was Col. Corcoran, of New York, who is slightly wounded. He is at Manassas Junction.

The following is from the Baltimore Exchange:

We receive the following from an eye witness, who arrived in this city last evening. He was detained at Manassas by Gen. Beauregard, who would not permit him to pass through on Saturday last. President Davis was present. He made a speech to his men before he led them on, and told them he did not intend to lead them in a unnecessary danger, and that he would always be with them, but that they were to fight for their homes and their firesides, and that he hoped no man would flinch. He was answered with great enthusiasm.

Not more than 13,000 Confederates were engaged during the whole fight. They were moved in divisions of about 7,000 men. There was a very large reserve at Manassas. The battle took place sooner than Beauregard intended. His desire was to get the enemy farther on and nearer to his main body; impetuosity of his men was so great that it could not possibly be restrained. The Washington Artillery was stationed at a small bridge across the road by which the Federal forces were expected to march, and did not fire a shot. They were supported by the Maryland men of whom it is believed that not more than three were killed during the whole engagement.

The heaviest loss was sustained by Gen. Wade Hampton's regiment and by a corps called the South Carolina Tigers. Gen. Hampton's regiment was decimated by a Confederate flag which the Federals had planted in some entrenchments which they had made under a flag of truce which Beauregard had recognized for the purpose of letting them bury their dead. When the South Carolinians found they had been entrapped, they rushed on the entrenchments and carried them at the bayonet's point, although they were badly cut up.

The total loss of the Confederates is estimated, in killed, wounded and missing, at 2,000 at the outside. An official return was made yesterday, to enable Beauregard to make a detailed report to headquarters.

It was estimated that the Federal loss in killed alone was 6,000. The Federal dead were being buried, and every attention was shown to the wounded that was paid to their own men. They had 1,100 prisoners, one of whom was Mr. Ely of New York. The prisoners were well treated and well fed.

There were 16,000 stands of arms taken in addition to two wagon loads of sabres, revolvers and accoutrements. Also 150 wagon loads of provisions and ammunitions of every kind. Also forty-two pieces of artillery including the whole of Sherman's battery. There was also taken a very handsome carriage and a pair of horses. In the carriage was a field glass, with Gen. Scott's name on it. The carriage and horses were presented to Mrs. Davis.

A considerable portion of Gen. Johnston's command was in the field, under Gen. Johnston himself.

The accounts of the battle, as received in the Northern papers, were pronounced utterly false. There was very little fighting behind entrenchments. Gen. McDowell attempted to outflank Beauregard's position, and Beauregard marched out to meet him. There was a great deal of open fighting, and the Southern troops charged with the bayonet very frequently. The South Carolinians, Georgians and Alabamians, sustained the brunt of the battle, and they were frequently engaged hand to hand.

Miss Louisa Hibbard, of Ontario, N. Y., was recently seduced by a false young harness-maker of that place. Her parents, who were greatly grieved, declared that they would rather have followed her to the grave, when Louisa took them at their word, swallowed corrosive sublimate, and became the bride of the angel of death.

DECIDEDLY PITIFUL.—A political speaker recently related an anecdote, in which he said he had been in the Florida wars chasing the Indians some years before, and among his companions was a reckless, dare-devil sort of a fellow, who seemed as careless of his own life as though he had a dozen more in his pocket. He had been hacked, cut, stabbed and shot in possible and impossible places, and his life despaired of frequently. All of this he bore with philosophical indifference. One day, however, he was tremendously kicked by a tremendous jackass; and this time death was inevitable.

His companions gathered around him, and one was selected to give him the painful intelligence that he must die. To the surprise of all, the reckless, callous, fearless soldier burst into tears. This was so unexpected, as no one had ever associated him with fear of death; and a surprised and ill-concealed soldierly contempt appeared on the faces of his companions.

Seeing this he drew up his shattered arms and lifted his head and said:
"It's not that, boys. It's not the fear of dying—though that isn't pleasant; but to think after all the high, grand old chances of dying I have had and lost, just to be kicked to death by a dod-darned yee-hawing old cuss of a jackass!"

SINGULAR AND SERIOUS ACCIDENT IN BUTTE COUNTY.—A very singular accident occurred at Lowrey's Ranch, on Butte creek, in Butte county, on Saturday evening last, resulting in the death of two valuable horses, and the serious injury of two men. A horse race was gotten up between William Vanneest and Coon Garner. While Vanneest was leading his horse on the end of the track, Garner came up mounted on his, and unintentionally ran upon Vanneest, trampling him under his horse's feet. David Shultz, who was standing near by, thinking Vanneest seriously hurt, started immediately on horseback after a doctor; at the same time, Samuel Bragg, being at the other end of the race track, started for the scene of the accident, also on horseback; when about midway of the track, where a crowd of men were standing, both riding at full speed, and evidently each expecting the other to turn out, their horses came in collision, their heads striking together, killing both instantly. Bragg's horse had his neck broken in two places, the other had his back broken. The riders were thrown in contact with each other, and fell to the ground with their horses. Mr. Shultz had his collar bone broken in two places, his shoulder badly hurt, and face badly bruised. Mr. Bragg received a severe injury in the upper part of the spine, which affects the brain. His face and shoulders were badly bruised. Both are represented as being sober, upright citizens, and hard working ranchmen. Shultz resides on Little Butte Creek, and Bragg in Grizzly bend. At last accounts both men were in a fair way of recovery.—Butte Record, 10th inst.

NEXT POINT OF ATTACK.—The impression prevails among Eastern writers that the next demonstration made by the Federal forces will be by means of forces sent by sea to attack some of the Southern cities. The Washington correspondent of the Bulletin says:

Marching upon Richmond will be postponed indefinitely. It seems to be settled. The Mississippi river, the sea coast, Texas, Western Virginia and Eastern Tennessee, seem quite likely to be made points of simultaneous operations on the part of the government. General McClellan and Colonel Lander were to have operated in Tennessee, but the transfer of the former to Washington has temporarily delayed an expedition which is to carry arms to the Union men there, and aid them in throwing off the yoke which treason has placed about their necks. The enterprise will soon be carried out, however; and then we may find a system of strategy developed, tending to result in the hemming in of the rebel army in Virginia, and cutting it off from relief on every side. In short, the general policy recommended by Gen. Scott, as set forth in my last, is likely to be pursued, with some modifications, made necessary by current events.

COL. MILES.—The Chicago Tribune received the following on the 25th of July. Col. Dixon S. Miles of the regular army, to whom was assigned the Fifth Division (reserves) in the corps of arms of Gen. McDowell, is under arrest, and will be court-martialed. He was too drunk to know what he was about on the day of the battle, and failed to bring up the reserve at the time ordered. Had he done so, the fortunes of the day might have been different. His division included the brigades of Colonel Blenker and Davies, the former (Blenker) being skirmishers, and the latter (Davies) regiments of infantry from New York. Col. Miles is a Colonel of the 2d Infantry, U. S. Army, a native of Maryland, and an officer of more than thirty years' service. His arrest creates quite a sensation, and is only another proof that all incompetent officers, whether in the regular service or the militia, are to be weeded out.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT are acknowledged to be the best medicine for the diseases of the brain and determination of blood to the head. They entirely supersede the old treatment of bleeding, cupping, and antimony; for while curing the disease, they do not enfeeble the constitution of the patient; nor do they overcome the head complaint by transferring the disease to some other organ, where, though not so perceptible, it is no less pernicious. Holloway's medicines effectually cure the head through the digestion and the blood, and their marvellous action on the kidneys. Almost all head affections depend upon the stomach; put that into order and head affections cease, while every portion of the body partakes to an equal extent of the beneficial change.

A CHRISTIAN GOVERNOR.—A correspondent of the Christian Advocate writes thus from Virginia City: "One of the first acts of Gov. Nye was to give notice that on the following Sabbath after his arrival he would hold Divine service in Carson City, (there being no minister there to officiate.) He told the people he would not live among them unless they recognized God, by having a minister and religious services on the holy Sabbath, and this is only expressing the sentiments of all his associates. What an anomaly for Executive appointees!"

TROUBLE AMONG THE NEW YORK FIRE ZOUAVES.—It is stated by telegraph from Washington, that the New York Fire Zouaves are to be sent home to New York, and that they are thoroughly demoralized. This is partly because they did not receive their pay before the battle, partly because their officers are incompetent to manage them, and partly because they feel as if they had been put in front expressly to be butchered by the enemy.

TORONTO, C. W., July 29th.—The Globe newspaper, which has hitherto strongly sympathized with the North, in an article to-day on American affairs says the sympathies of the British people, which were at first unmistakably with the North, are fast becoming alienated by the unequalled assaults and misrepresentations of the American press. The leading newspaper (Government organ) favors the idea of the Government sending additional troops to Canada before winter.

Schools, Officials, and the Nanaimo Swindle.

The Assembly were engaged yesterday in voting away the public money. The sum of £550 was voted for schools, of which £100 was to be spent in repairs of school-houses, and the balance to pay the salaries of three schoolmasters—one each at Nanaimo, Victoria, and Craigflower. The school question was dealt with in such a way by the Obstructives as not to merit much consideration. It was not known how many scholars there are in the schools, even. There was not the slightest data offered to show whether the schools worked well or ill; it was simply taking a leap in the dark. The same course was pursued in regard to the sheriff's salary of £200, besides his fees. Mr. Burnaby inquired if any return of his fees had been sent in, but was answered in the negative. Here another leap in the dark was taken; for it appeared to matter not to the House whether the sheriff's fees were worth £1 or £1000. The coroner's department caused some considerable discussion, which ended in voting £200 for the expenses of his department. Data was in this case entirely out of the question. Guess so, and a niggardly guess-so, even, at that.

Then came up the feature of the day—the Nanaimo swindle. The Government had appointed a magistrate there; and it wanted £250 voted to support him. Mr. Cary applied to have the appointment made and voted for the salary, but failed in getting more than £150. Dr. Helmcken, on being told that the appointment had already been made without the sanction of the House, said positively that he would not vote for the salary. So amiable is his disposition, however, that he subsequently moved to appropriate £150! He simply "chewed up his own words." The debate was quite interesting. Mr. Cary, to make out a good case for his protege, drew a picture of Nanaimo society that was a libel on its population. There were drunken miners and rowdy sailors, pugnacious Indians, and the officials of the Hudson Bay Company were not fit to be trusted with holding a magistracy. But to put on the cap-sheaf, he said there were 600 people in Nanaimo! when there is not perhaps 200, or very little more at the utmost. It is due to Messrs. Burnaby, Foster, Southgate, McDonald, and Waddington to say that they opposed this swindle, but it was no use. Dr. Helmcken gulped down the pill, and the swindle on the public was consummated. To call it by any other name would be to mistake the Queen's English. A stipendiary magistrate is no more required there than a fifth wheel to a coach. A non-stipendiary magistrate could discharge all the duties; but no—office-hunters must be provided for. Mr. Burnaby proposed that the schoolmaster should discharge the duties of magistrate without additional salary. But that was too much economy; besides, the idea of a village pedagogue dispensing justice for nothing was far too radical an innovation for a country that can afford to waste its funds in adding to our official staff. We cannot however allow this famous squandering of public money to pass without the vote: Ayes: Helmcken, Gordon, Cary, Crease, Fohme, Noes, Foster, McDonald.

The next item was £250 to pay the Attorney General for prosecuting any case for the Government. This passed without much discussion. The feature of this vote may be given by comparison. Suppose a man be hired for a fixed salary, and then be allowed fees for what he does, would he not get double pay? So Mr. Attorney General is to get £300 a year and the chance of pickings unknown out of £50 for prosecutions. Admirable, is it not? The sum of £50 was voted for magistrates fees, when the House voted £100 a year to the Registrar General of Deeds without regard to the rights of the Registrar of the Supreme Court. Apparently satisfied with the last job, an adjournment took place.

A Weak Invention.

The Press tried hard in its last issue to escape the responsibility of injuring the country abroad. It wishes the public to believe that its arguments were directed only against an "assisted immigration." For argument's sake we will admit that assisted or pauper immigration is not desirable. The only other class of immigrants then who would be desirable would be those who had sufficient means to provide for themselves on their arrival here. We ask the Press, then, how it could expect this class to come here, from abroad, when it has circulated everywhere reports that "able-bodied men were unable to get work, and that families were leaving the country?" It is clear enough that the Press is directly opposed to "assisted immigration," and misrepresents the country in doing so; consequently an unassisted immigration is stopped by its misrepresentations. Thus, it opposes both assisted and unassisted immigration. Is the Press not a blind guide, indeed, although it talks eloquently of seeing the evils of an assisted immigration six years before it was published?

House of Assembly.

TUESDAY, August 27, 1861.

House met at 3:15 o'clock. Present—Speaker Helmecken and Messrs. Foster, Gordon, McDonald, Waddington, Cary, Franklin, Crease, Burnaby, Tolmie, Southgate.

House in Committee of Supply, Mr. Waddington in the chair.

Mr. Cary asked leave to introduce a money bill, on the subject of the five-eighths per centum street tax. The bill provides that all surplus funds on hand arising from such street tax shall be devoted towards making a road, properly macadamized and graded, from the junction of Douglas and Pandora streets to the northern limits of the town.

The Chairman asked the amount of the surplus funds on hand?

Mr. Cary—About £500.

After a short discussion on the advisability of improving the approaches to the town before the streets are repaired, leave was granted Mr. Cary to bring in the bill.

The Estimate No. 3 was taken up, and the item appropriating £550 for educational purposes considered.

Mr. Franklin regretted very much the small sum which had been set aside for so important an object. For Victoria School, where there are 45 children in attendance, no more is appropriated than for Nanaimo, or Craigflower, where there are not over 25; and the number of children here must be far greater than in the other parts of the island. The Victoria school-house is not adapted to the wants of the community, and the expense of sending children to a private school is too heavy to be borne by the few parents. The town requires a public school built near the centre of the town, instead of in the outskirts as now, and he was satisfied that no more important question would come before the Legislature this year than the one now before it.

The Chairman was convinced that anything he might say on the subject would have but little weight with the Government; but he hoped that a voice—a word—an echo—even from him—might not be entirely lost. The Government had been entirely wrong, on the subject of education. The sum asked for was ridiculously small, and no proper provision had been made for the education of the young. Once a grant of ten acres was made for school reserves here; but subsequently the Government found that it had been too liberal, and took back five acres. There should be Boards of Education appointed to supervise the schools; and prizes for studious scholars provided for. The location of the school was very bad, and as many parents could not afford to send their children to private institutions of learning, their children went without. He hoped the Town Council, when the matter came before it, would deal more benevolently towards the schools than the House seemed disposed to do.

Mr. Helmecken said that reserves of land for schools were made in every part of the Colony; but through some mythical action on the part of the Home Government, the reserves were afterwards set aside.

Mr. Cary hoped the Chairman would try and bring forward some educational scheme this session, as it was impossible for the government to do everything. He himself was so busy that he never had a holiday and he would be extremely happy to see somebody else do something.

The Chairman remarked that most of the bills brought forward last year by members outside of the Government were quashed in Council.

Mr. Crease said the educational question was one which must be dealt with in an earnest, grave, and careful manner. It must be well examined, and the House would have to see where the money was to come from to provide for the education of our growing population. He was satisfied that nothing but lack of funds prevented a more liberal provision for the purpose being made.

Mr. Foster believed that a general system of schools would be much more beneficial in its results than all the private schools in the colony. He thought the smallness of the sum asked for educational purposes was attributable to the fact that the Government aimed at having a large but badly paid staff of officials about it, whose duties only required an hour or two each day to perform them. He would have the school-teachers better paid, if he had to curtail the number of clerks. The location of the school was not an obstacle at present. A better system was wanted at first, and the scheme should emanate from the Government.

Mr. Burnaby asked whether the present school site might not be disposed of and the school removed to another location nearer town?

Mr. Cary—The land on which the school is situated belongs to the Hudson Bay Company.

Mr. Burnaby—We shall hardly be in a position, then, to grapple with the matter till the Privy Council has decided to whom the lands of the Colony belong.

Mr. Franklin proposed as a resolution, that His Excellency be informed that, in the opinion of this House, another public school is necessary, and that the sum of £200 be devoted for that purpose.

The Chairman decided that the resolution was out of order, and must come before the House after due notice had been given.

Mr. Franklin then moved that the words "repairs of buildings" be replaced by "building expenses." Adopted, and the item of £550 was granted.

Sheriff's salary, £200.

Mr. Southgate asked for information as to the Sheriff's fees?

Mr. Cary knew very little about them.

Mr. Foster wished to know who received the fees?

Mr. Cary—The Sheriff keeps them himself.

Mr. Burnaby thought that the sheriff ought to give an account of all the fees which he had received, for the information of the House.

Mr. Cary said he was quite sure the sheriff would be outside £250. Carried.

Coroner's fees and expenses, £200.

Mr. McDonald said that a dead-house was necessary, and introduced an amendment to the effect that the coroner should have a fixed salary of £50 per annum; funeral expenses, £40; and £50 to be appropriated for the erection of a dead house.

This caused some discussion as to whether the coroner would accept of such a small sum.

Mr. Franklin regarded the office of coroner as a very important one, and said that the coroner only received £2 for every inquest; that he had been lately engaged on an inquest for five days, and had only received £2 for his services.

Mr. Tolmie did not think the office very important, and said that many a young miserly gentleman would be glad to take the post mortem for the purpose of gaining reputation. He also thought it would be well to have a dead-house.

Mr. McDonald said that last year the sum of £67 had been expended for fees, traveling expenses, etc.

Mr. Franklin did not think that any person holding a judicial position should be paid by fees. He had heard of cases in San Francisco where four or five inquests had been held on the same body in the course of one month.

Mr. McDonald's amendment was then put in detail.

Coroner's salary, £60. Ayes, McDonald, Southgate, Burnaby, Cary, Franklin—5; Noes, Tolmie, Foster, Gordon, Crease, Helmecken—5.

The chairman gave the casting vote with the noes and the appropriation was lost.

Funeral expenses, £40. Lost.

Dead-house, £50.

Mr. Cary thought that this sum should also be negated and another amendment brought in.

Mr. Waddington said if this sum were negated it could not be brought in again.

Mr. Cary—Oh! then we had better not negative it.

The appropriation was carried.

A sum of £100 was voted for fees and expenses. Administration of Justice, £550; Magistrate at Nanaimo, £250.

Mr. McDonald wished to know what the revenue of Nanaimo was.

Mr. Gordon said altogether it amounted to about £500.

Mr. Cary stated that there were at present about 600 white people residing there and that the magistrate sat five days in the week.

Mr. Foster thought that there was no more important position than that of a justice of the peace in a mining district.

Mr. Burnaby stated that many items which the House was asked to pass had already been re-passed, and that such conduct should be reprimanded.

Lumber is in demand. The town manded. He also thought that the duties of magistrate at Nanaimo should be performed by the manager of the Hudson Bay Company at present residing there. He would vote against it.

Mr. Foster could hardly think it necessary for the magistrate to sit so often.

Mr. Cary stated that the person who performed the duties of magistrate also performed the duties of Harbourmaster, collector of taxes, etc., and that a magistrate was not allowed to trade.

Mr. McDonald did not see why Nanaimo should not be on the same footing as Alberni, as the Hon. member for Salt Spring had previously stated.

Mr. Franklin said he should oppose the voting of £250, and proposed an amendment that a salary of £100 be given to the magistrate.

There was then a discussion about the situation of the town.

Mr. Cary said that the town had been built on the only place that could be found as the rest was taken by the Hudson Bay Company.

Mr. Tolmie—And paid for. (Laughter.)

Mr. Burnaby wished to know whether the Schoolmaster might not act as magistrate also, as in the former case, the Government was paying for a magistrate for the benefit of a company.

Mr. Franklin's amendment was not seconded.

The sum of £150 was then proposed and carried.

Justice's fees £50. Carried.

Registrar General of Title Deeds, £400.

Mr. Foster said it was understood last year that the Registrar of the Court should also be Registrar of Deeds, but that now the tables were turned.

Mr. Franklin stated that it was specially determined in the last Act that either Registrar or Solicitor should hold the office of Registrar of Deeds.

Mr. McDonald stated that he had intended to propose a reconsideration of the question of the salary of the Registrar of Supreme Court.

The sum was finally carried.

Mr. Franklin gave notice that he would move that His Excellency be informed that the House considered it very desirable that another public school should be established in Victoria Town.

Mr. McDonald stated that he had intended to propose a reconsideration of the question of the salary of the Registrar of Supreme Court.

of Antler Creek contains some sixty houses. The Commissioner had given them warning that the town was built on miner's ground, and that the houses must be moved to saw-mill flat, three miles above.

The miners at Cariboo are better contented than any class of men Mr. Beedy says he has ever observed. It was impossible to get a white man to hire out, and Chinamen were employed in their stead. Laborers are in demand.

Not more than 500 men will winter at Cariboo this year. Some 300 will flume the North Fork of Quesnelle and endeavor to work during the winter months. The country is well watered and any amount of grass is found. The creeks and ravines are heavily timbered.

Mr. Beedy returned last evening on the Otter, and in leaving us remarked that matters look much better at Cariboo than on the Yuba river in its palmist days.

Letter from Quesnelle River.

QUESNELLE CITY, 3d August, 1861.

FRIEND S.—I arrived here on the 21st July. The trip was a tiresome one. Owing to a scarcity of animals at Thompson River I had to foot it all the way. * * * My brother Tom is at Antler, and writes me that this is beyond doubt a second California in '49. I hear of no one making less than $10 a day, and the greater number are making from $100 to $500 per day. The people at Antler and other creeks are in a great state of excitement, and prospecting parties are out in all directions. When a party starts out on a voyage of discovery, merchants agree to furnish the grub free of charge, provided an interest in the claims when found is given them. Every creek yet struck pays big. Provisions are a dollar a pound on the creek. The demand is greater than the supply. A great many will winter here if provisions enough can be got up in the fall. All the trains that arrive here go on to Antler Creek without stopping. Business is dull here just now, owing to the rush above. Twenty pack trains have crossed the bridge here from the 25th ult. up till today. The bridge is 300 feet long and 10 feet wide. The river is falling rapidly. Freight is 20 cents per lb. and from here to Antler. H. Robinson is here. He brings great accounts from Antler, on which he has one of the richest claims. Hunt has left packing and gone to mining. Jim Harris, from one shovelful of dirt, got a prospect of $5 in his claim. The greater portion of the claims gold they find here has quartz mixed with it. It is taken here in trade at $17 per ounce. Miners expect to work here until the middle of October—the time at which they stopped last year. Gambling is in full blast; liquors sell at 50 cents per glass, and everything else in proportion. * * *

Yours, truly,

WM. P. BARRY.

GREAT LOWWEE CREEK.—Considerable attention is being attracted towards this new stream, recently struck in the Cariboo country. It is situated about three miles from Williams' Creek and twenty-three from Antler Creek, in a northwesterly direction. As high as $500 to the hand have been obtained by the Patterson boys company in one day. Sluices were set on their claim and water obtained from a small rivulet which flowed down the side of a snow-capped mountain. Both sides of the creek had been taken up at last accounts, and the general impression seemed to be that the new discovery would prove quite as rich as Antler Creek. Willoughby and Tilton, the first discoverers of the Great Lowwee, are Yaleites, and in naming the stream had in view the perpetuation of the title of a society of jokers which formerly existed in Yale—called the Great Lowwee Association—the members of which once pretended to initiate a man into its mysteries and miseries, and in doing so induced him to confess to the commission of a robbery on Emory's Bar some time before. The creek next above Lowwee has been named "Broek" after the password of the same association.

LES ENFANS DE PARIS.—We are sure the public will be pleased to learn that this musical society propose giving another entertainment some evening next week, at the New Theatre, on which occasion several new pieces will be introduced. The concert is given at the urgent request of a number of citizens who were present at the previous entertainment, and the proceeds are to be devoted to the relief of the French Benevolent Society.

THE MISSING BODIES.—The bodies of three of the victims by the explosion of the Cariboo are still missing, viz.: Capt. Archibald Jamieson, P. De Garro, and a stranger (temporary deck-hand). It is possible that the bodies have floated out into the Straits, which may account for the fruitless result of the efforts of the grapplers directed towards their recovery nearly every day since the disaster.

NOTHING LATER.—The Eliza Anderson yesterday brought us no later dates than those received on the arrival of the Sierra Nevada. A pony dispatch was received at Portland on last Saturday afternoon, but too late for transmission to Olympia. The Anderson will leave at six o'clock this morning for the Sound.

THE SCHOONER Endeavor did not get off last evening. Her cargo consists of 47,000 feet white pine lumber for San Francisco.

The bark Glumpse will sail this evening or to-morrow morning for the Port Discovery mills.

POLICE COURT.—Two or three drunken and disorderly persons came before the magistrate yesterday and were summarily punished.

Lady Franklin is traveling through California and will remain there some two or three months.

The Otter left for New Westminster last evening with 25 passengers and 90 tons of freight.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.—A young man named Wiley, freight-clerk on board the steamship Sierra Nevada, has been missing since yesterday morning at four o'clock. He was up all Monday night attending to the discharge of cargo, and at the hour stated started to lie down in his berth and had not been seen up to the time of the steamer's departure. It is concluded that he may have fallen overboard in passing over the freight to reach his bed.

AUCTION.—Mr. McCrea will hold an important sale of damaged goods this morning at 11 o'clock, on the Hudson Bay Company's wharf. The goods were damaged on the late voyage of the Kafir Chief to this port.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A sailor died suddenly aboard H. M. S. Bacchante one evening last week. He had been skylarking on deck and walked below, where he died almost immediately afterwards.

In coming alongside of her wharf yesterday the Eliza Anderson struck one of the piles with much violence, damaging her bows slightly.

DEATH AT THE HOSPITAL.—Wm. Murray, a native of England, aged 21 years, died yesterday at the hospital, of consumption. He was a bismarck by trade, and had been ill at the hospital for about two months.

The Explosion Commission yesterday continued to take evidence relative to the Cariboo disaster.

THE THREE VESSELS on the way from the Cape of Good Hope to this port with the Sanatorium, are now fully due.

THE SIERRA NEVADA—This steamer left yesterday noon for San Francisco with 60 passengers, a few of whom were Chinamen.

The Sierra Nevada brought up nearly 1000 boxes of Oregon apples.

PANICS.—We see many people who are disposed to attach undue importance to the fact that our decorated troops were seized with a caseless panic and retreated in disorder from the field. It should be remembered that panics have seized upon the oldest and best drilled troops in the world at different times, from causes of the most trivial nature. After the battle of Solferino, the accidental overturning of an ammunition wagon started a panic in the victorious French army which spread to a whole division, and infantry, cavalry and artillery rushed pell-mell from the field, abandoning arms, provisions, ammunition and everything, and only halting at last from sheer exhaustion when miles away from the battlefield. All this happened when the battle had been won and there was no enemy in sight, and yet the French troops are unquestionably equal to any in the world both for courage and discipline.—Am. paper.

DIED. In Victoria, August 27th, 1861, EDWARD MURRAY, native of Bristol, England, aged 25 years. Friends and acquaintances of deceased are respectfully invited to attend his funeral from the Victoria Hospital at 3 P. M. to-day.

DRUGS & MEDICINES.

THE WORLD'S FRIEND!
Holloway's Ointment.
A Cure for Piles and Fistulas.
Inflammation of sensitive parts, piles, fistulas, and such like painful diseases may be presently relieved, and ultimately cured, by the proper and diligent use of this cooling and healing Ointment, which, when used in such cases, has many times been proved to be a patient will experience a wonderful degree of ease from this treatment. They are equally suitable to both sexes, and all ages.
Coughs, Colds, and Asthma.
These complaints of the chest come on with alarming frequency. The Ointment should be used twice a day on the chest and between the shoulders, when the violence of all symptoms will gradually give way, the breathing become longer, and the oppression less.
No medicines are more efficient in chest complaints, and the Ointment, when used with equal safety and certainty. Both Pills and Ointment are accompanied by very clear and simple directions for using them.
A Man who refused to have his Leg off.
"From the Kilmuckie Advertiser, June 2nd, 1860."
THOMAS COX, Esquire, Magistrate, said in the Board Room at Kilmuckie, that he knew a man who had been in the Infirmary and was actually turned out as incurable, on his way home to Kilmuckie, he purchased at Lanks, Holloway's Ointment, and used it as he said, it saved him from being worse with him. This man, said Mr. Cox, became by their use as sound and as healthy as any man in the room. These celebrated Pills and Ointment will cure any wound, sore, or ulcer, however long standing, if properly used according to the printed directions.
Gout and Rheumatism.
The essence of these diseases lies in the blood, which has flowed through every vessel, the pain-giving poison, which irritates and inflames every tissue it comes in contact with, and produces the hot, swollen, elastic enlargement about the joints so characteristic of gouty diseases. The swelling of the joints, which is caused by this depravity in the blood, which is rapidly purified by the use of the Pills. The Ointment, when rubbed upon the skin, penetrates the system through the pores, acts in unison with the Pills, and soon effects a cure.
Dropsy, Swollen Legs or Ankles.
The various kinds of dropsy, whether windy or watery, arise from some obstruction to the free circulation through the blood vessels or lymphatics, or depend on the inflamed state of some secreting surface.
Holloway's remedies, of which the efficacy cannot be exaggerated, act directly upon the blood, the absorb-ents in the system, and thus remove the cause of the disease. The Ointment can long resist. They regulate the proper flow of blood to every organ, and purify
